

U.S. GOLF ASSOCIATION GOLF HOUSE
Somerset County

Golf House, a red brick building of Georgian colonial architecture, was built in 1919. It was designed by John Russell Pope, who also designed the National Archives Building, the Jefferson Memorial and the American Battle Monument in France. Originally built for a residence, the Golf House was acquired by the U.S.G.A. in 1972, where it now houses their administrative offices, a museum and a library. There are some 260 golf courses located in New Jersey.
